Lori E. Green joined the development staff at University of Alabama at Birmingham in the fall of 2011 as Assistant Director. Previously, she served as Director of Investor Relations at Otterbein University in Westerville, Ohio. Her responsibilities there included endowed fund management, donor relations strategic development, event planning, and campaign coordination. Prior to her stewardship experiences, Lori served as Special Events Manager for Mount Carmel Foundation (Columbus, Ohio), as a reference librarian for Mount Carmel Health System, and as a public relations coordinator for Community Mental Health and Recovery Board and Licking Memorial Hospital (both in Newark, Ohio).

Lori currently serves as vice president with the Association of Donor Relations Professionals (ADRP) Board. She served as chair of the 2008 International Conference and was Vendor Liaison for the 2005-2007 International Conferences. She currently is a volunteer with The Alys Stephens Center at UAB. In Ohio, Lori served as president of the Westerville Chamber Foundation Board, was a member of Granville Bluesfest and WHO/Ohio, and a volunteer reader with VOICEcorps in Columbus, Ohio. Lori graduated from Denison University with a BA in English (minor in Education) and received her Master's in Library Science from Kent State University.
