May 16 | SUNY Global Center
New York, New York

2025 ADRP NEMA Regional Conference Schedule

Keynote: “IN”powered for Impact: Living Purposefully During Times of Uncertainty Dr. Shai Butler

A self-described recovering “Hot Mess,” Dr. Shai Butler knows what it takes to navigate uncertainty and succeed personally and professionally. Using her life and career experiences, she shares with audiences how to traverse the fault lines and keep moving forward during times of disruption. Dr. Shai reminds us that we have everything we need within to power through many of the challenges life brings. She will address personal growth and strategic self-leadership to help build professional resilience, purposeful living, and strategic thinking.

Dr. Shai Butler, author of “Better. Not Perfect – From Hot Mess To Life Success,” is leading a movement of women who are learning to give the same grace to themselves that they so freely give to others. Her real and raw memoir will make you see yourself in the pages and find hope, healing, and solutions to some of your deepest struggles.

Dr. Shai is also the founder and CEO of StratHERgies LLC, an Executive Leadership Development consultancy that works with current and aspiring managers on setting strategy, developing goals, change management, conflict resolution, teambuilding, and retreat facilitation to establish or enhance a healthy and productive workplace culture.
